Australia's cities are some of the most liveable in the world. Around three quarters of our population live in Australia's 21 largest cities and these generate around 80 per cent of GDP. Continued globalisation and technological change mean that Australia's economy will increasingly rely on knowledge-based and other services for its prosperity.

Cities

A city is a large human settlement. Cities generally have extensive systems for housing, transportation, sanitation, utilities, land use, and communication. Their density facilitates interaction between people, government organizations and businesses, sometimes benefiting different parties in the process.
